HGV Spring 2012

Welcome Spring! We are very excited and busy preparing for the 2012 season. We have many new items both in the plant departments as well as decorative items. We have been working on arranging the general store and have many updated displays. Our potting barn has a new pot display that makes it easier to find the pot you're looking for. Sue's basket classes will be starting soon so don't hesitate to sign up while there are spots open. The Early Bird Perennial Sale and the Bareroot Sale are starting early this season due to Mother Nature waking things up early with the nicer than normal weather. We look forward to seeing you all and are looking forward to a great 2012 season!

Have a very Happy Easter and God bless.

The Hanson Family and their crew of garden enthusiasts at HGV
